

An aerial photograph of a river valley, likely the Owens Valley, showing a winding river, a dam, and extensive irrigation canals. The terrain is arid and hilly. At the top of the image, there is a horizontal band showing a close-up of tall grasses.

JOHN WALTON WESTERN TIMES

AND WATER WARS

A LECTURE AND FUNDRAISER
HOSTED BY AND FOR THE OWENS VALLEY COMMITTEE

Saturday February 25

MOUNTAIN LIGHT GALLERY
106 SOUTH MAIN STREET
BISHOP, CALIFORNIA

5:30-8:00 P.M.

John Walton, a University of California, Davis research professor and the author of "one of the half-dozen most important works in historical sociology by an American scholar" (as described in The Virginia Quarterly Review), joins us for a lecture and fundraising event for the Owens Valley Committee (www.OVCweb.org). Doors open at 5:30 for drinks, hors d'oeuvres, and raffle; lecture begins at 6:15; raffle drawing after lecture. Suggested donation $10 at door.